LAXITY IS DISCLOSED IN SARTAIN TRIAL

POKER PARTIES AND HOTEL COMFORTS AT PENITENTIARY

Many Prisoners Had Outside Passes and Went in and Out at Pleasure—Alleged Bribes Totaled $27,000—Those Who Had Money Could Obtain Privileges.

Testimony that bribes totaling $27,000 were passed by convicted bootleggers to gain privileges at Atlanta penitentiary introduced in trial of A. E. Sartain, Columbus, former warden; J. J. Fletcher of Florida, former deputy warden and Lawrence "Heinie" Riehl, Columbus, indicted as a "go-between."

Bootlegger prisoners testify they played poker above the warden's garage and used the profits as bribes.

Riehl is accused by witnesses of offering to "sell" paroles and John J. Madden, captain of the prison guard, testified that 230 convicts had outside passes.

The total of bribes alleged to have been "privileges" has jumped to $27,000, with the testimony of Graham Baughn, convicted Savannah, Georgia bootlegger.

Baughn said he gave Willie Haar $1500 which was subsequently turned over to Riehl. Baughn testified he had definite knowledge of a $5000 bribe from Mannie Kessler, convicted New York bootlegger, and another from C. C. Tuten, convicted Savannah bootlegger. These sums, together with the $15,500 Willie Haar, convicted bootlegger of Savannah, Tuesday testified he turned over to Riehl, brought the total to $27,000.

Directly implicating former Warden Sartain in acceptance of a bribe, Willie Haar testified Wednesday that Sartain told him on his arrival at Atlanta penitentiary, "I got the package you sent."

This package contained the $10,500 turned over to Riehl in Savannah. Haar also testified that Sartain had asked and received $5000 in addition to this original payment.

Graham Baughn testified he paid over his $1500 after conversation with former prison Chaplain Hayden, in which the priest explained how things would be "fixed." Baughn was afforded accommodations in basement "A," a sort of Y. M. C. A., and was made the warden's chauffeur.

Baughn said he cashed a $5000 check from Kessler to Fletcher. This check was sent thru an alleged lawyer of Kessler.

Baughn declared Tuten learned of the special privileges allowed wealthy inmates and asked to be "taken into the fold."

"He gave me $5000 and I took it to Warden Sartain and told him what Tuten wanted. A few days later Tuten as made the prison doctor's chauffeur," Baughn said.

Unsuccessful attempts to sell paroles or $2500 also were made by Riehl, it was brought out. Haar testified he had refused such an offer from the Columbus man and Baughn said he understood Tuten was made such a proposition.

The federal prison was a costly hotel, but if one had the money he could obtain his money's worth, according to federal prisoners who testified late Wednesday.

Poker parties theater privileges, meals with the chaplain of the prison, oceries for a party of seven, total $200 a month, and special beds were the "purchases" of prisoners who had a sufficiency of coin, it was testified.

All thru the testimony a poker game rattled. At times the defense was quick in its efforts to bring out evidence concerning these games; at other times witnesses volunteered stories of games alleged to have been played in a room above the garage upon the warden's property—games in which "the limit was off." Tales of thousands changing hands were told.

Baughn testified he won $375 in one game. His winnings, he said, he used to pay his part of a bribe for the warden.

"Easy times" of the prisoners was described by Baughn. "I would come to town, go to theaters, do anything I wanted," he said. "Everything was lovely at the prison." He testified that he, with Rev. Fr. Thomas P. Hayden, former chaplain at the prison, acted as "go-between in arranging a price of $1500 a convict for special privileges.

Baughn said he turned over $1500 to Willie Haar, who, he said, had been agreed upon as the one to make payment. A few days later, he said, in response to a telephone call he went to a Savannah hotel and met Riehl.

"Riehl told me he was a next-door neighbor of Sartain at Columbus, and that he was in Savannah authorized to act in accordance with the agreement entered into with Father Hayden. He was familiar with the amount involved."

Baughn also testified that Riehl discussed the question of parole and indicated that for the sum or $2500 a parole might be obtained. Baughn declared the same proposition was made to Tuten relative to Tuten's father-in-law, also under sentence. Baughn said he told Riehl he did not wish to do anything about a parole at that time, but that he took Riehl's card and agreed to send the money if he desired a parole.

VALENTINE DANCE NEXT ON PROGRAM.

The C. A. C. had the warmest dance program yet last Saturday evening when an unusually large crowd tripped to the aristocratic jazz put out by the State Collegians, one of the best orchestras ever heard in Circleville. They are just what they are supposed to be red hot and full of pep. This outfit consists of Lamont Retz, saxophone; Fred Everett, trumpet; Lee Kramer, piano; William Martin, banjo; E. W. Skidmore, trombone and C. W. Schmachtenberger, drums and they are everyone good.

Next Saturday evening, February 14, the club will have a carnival Valentine dance and the State Collegians will furnish the music. Between five and six hundred people are expected and it will be "one grand soiree." Everybody that likes to dance or watch dancing will be there and it will be the place to find your friends. Remember, you are assured of good music—all of you like the Collegians; the affair will be a carnival in honor of Valentine's day; and that there will be a big crowd and a good crowd in attendance; and furthermore that you are sure to enjoy it, and there will be no doubt that you will be there. Next Saturday, February 14, at 8:30 p. m. at C. A. C.

CIRCLEVILLE OUTCLASSED LANCASTER

C. A. C. Girls Lost to Munk Florists by the Score of 20 to 5.

In one of the most spectacular games of the season with the score see-sawing thruout most of the game the C. A. C. Quintet defeated the L. A. C. at the gym Thursday night.

The first half was by far the most interesting with first one team and then the other in the lead. In the early part of the second half however, the local boys secured a safe lead and maintained it thruout the remainder of the game.

There was no particular player on the C. A. C. team that starred but the team played as a well lubricated machine with Steel and Gattrel dividing point honors, while Dugan showed up best for the visitors.

Referee Steele again proved his ability as an official handling the game in a masterful manner.

The C. A. C. girls lost to the Munk Florists 20 to 5.

Next week we meet another of our old time rivals in the Chillicothe Athletic club. This will be another good one and fans should arrange their schedule now to be sure nothing will come up to conflict with their seeing this game.

Test Silks and Other Articles Before Buying

Knowing real values when you see them is knowing how to buy, and although the everyday housewife cannot be expected to have knowledge of a merchandise manager—still one can pick up a few hints which will help one to attain a better knowledge of what's what in merchandise, says the Kansas City Star.

The best way to judge anything you are contemplating purchasing, says the buyer for a well-known firm, is to handle it. This is sometimes the only satisfactory method of judging as to its quality and durability.

In buying silks don't be content to see them in the bolt. Insist that the salesman drape them for you, as they show off to a much better advantage this way and you can form a more accurate opinion as to the sheen, color and texture of the material. Sheer fabrics are often shown over delicate, plain shades, to give the impression of daintiness, so it is well to remember that they will not look this way when made up, unless you intend making them up over just the same material.

Have you ever had the experience of buying a brilliant bit of jewelry and when you got it home found that it apparently had lost all its luster? The reason for this is that in the store the jewelry was no doubt displayed on a blue velvet pad and underneath a complicated arrangement of light rays. Away from this setting it is like a picture which depended to a great extent upon the proper framing to reveal its beauty.

To test taffeta silk, ask the saleswoman to pull up a fold from the piece. If it stands erect, the "body" of the fabric is good. Crepe and other materials which do not wrinkle easily are crushed in the hand as the most convincing way of testing their quality.

A careful shopper always examines the palms as well as the backs of gloves, because the palms are often of inferior leather. Test the elasticity of the leather by slightly stretching the gloves.

Fur Border Makes Coat Appear Even Shorter

In point of coat silhouette, there appears to be a division of feeling between the type cut on straight lines such as are associated with the manish topcoat and those that are achieved by wrapped adjustment. The extent of the lapped-over section varies, and some reveal the scope that prompts the measure of extreme side wrapping.

So important a part of the silhouette is the fur border in the majority of these coats that discussion cannot proceed very far without early mention of it. Its effect on the general character of the coat is definite, appearing for the most part in long-haired furs, in generous widths. Occurring above the hemline of a coat that is already of curtailed length, this border has decidedly the effect of making the coat appear even shorter. This feature also has the quality of investing an animated tone to the silhouette, such as a short flare might produce without, of course, disturbing the straight, slim contour.

Just as prominent as fur is in the border is its absence from other parts of the coat. The contrast of the massive border with the flat collar treatment is a pronounced characteristic of the latest fashions for coats.

Dance Frocks

The newest dance frocks seem almost to dance of themselves, so light and airy are they in fabric and so irregular in hemline that they suggest motion even if the model is silent.

HARTMAN THEATER

Thurston, the famous magician, comes to the Hartman theater, Columbus, for his 19th annual engagement beginning Monday evening, February 9, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

The engagement promises a new program of magic by what is unquestionably the only show of its kind on earth. Thurston needs no introduction to lovers of this time honored style of amusement. He has been distinctly in a class by himself, the head of his profession, since he stepped into the shoes of the great Kellar. The productions which he made in the past in this field of amusement are pointed to with pride and should stand as a guarantee of what may be expected from his this season. Thurston today carries more paraphernalia than all of the past and present day magicians combined. His supporting company of capable assistants, of whom are beautiful girls is large as many musical revues and his scenic equipment is of such beauty as to call forth numerous Ah's and Oh's of amazement, surprise and prise.

The AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

MANY INTERESTED IN BIG CAMPAIGN

Every member of the cabinet, high officers of the army and navy and noted women have accepted membership on the honorary committee for the American Legion campaign for a $5,000,000 endowment for rehabilitation and child welfare work. Vice President-elect Charles G. Dawes has accepted the vice chairmanship of the committee, which is headed by President Calvin Coolidge. Mrs. Coolidge is women's chairman of the honorary committee.

Members of the committee, in addition to the President and vice president-elect and Mrs. Coolidge, are: Secretaries Hughes, Mellon, Hoover, Work, Gore, Davis, Weeks, Wilbur; Attorney General Stone, Postmaster General New, Admiral E. W. Eberle, Gen. John J. Pershing, Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, Maj. Gen. J. L. Hines, Mrs. Frances Cleveland Preston, wife of former President Grover Cleveland; Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the singer; Miss Ethel Barrymore, the actress, and Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, the writer.

The Legion campaign was formally endorsed by the American Federation of Labor at its annual convention at El Paso, Texas. National Commander James A. Drain addressed the convention, explaining the endowment and its purposes.

Adjutants of the Legion in every department pledged "utmost support" to the campaign at the conclusion of their annual conference at national headquarters. The national commander and other officials laid the plans for the campaign before the conference.

The first contribution to the fund was received from a World war veteran, who sent $100 in "appreciation of my safe return to my wife and five children." The veteran was Dr. C. S. White of Rosedale, Ind. He declared that the campaign "is a wonderful thing for you to do."

Income from the endowment is to be used in work among disabled World war veterans, in caring for orphans of veterans and in child welfare generally. Plans for the campaign have been expedited because of the pressing need for assistance for 5,000 orphans of veterans who now are in need of care. The campaign will be nationwide.

Anan Raymond Commands Biggest Post in World

It takes a big man to run the affairs of the biggest Legion post in the world and that's what Legionnaires of Omaha, Neb., had in mind recently when they elected Anan Raymond, attorney, commander of Omaha post for the year of 1925. More than two days' balloting resulted in the election of Mr. Raymond, who succeeds Leo B. Bozell, the man who is said to be largely responsible for the size and fame of Omaha post. Besides launching and putting over the idea of bringing the national convention of the Legion to Omaha in 1925, Mr. Bozell is leaving a very substantial sum in the treasury of the Omaha post.

Would Prevent Game of Fraudulent Solicitors

National headquarters of the American Legion urges all Legion posts to issue officially signed credentials in instances where solicitation is to be done in the interests of the Legion, raising welfare funds, money for clubhouses, etc. The posts should do this, it is pointed out, to protect themselves, the Legion and the friends of the Legion who contribute to their legitimate enterprises from fraudulent persons using the Legion for a cloak to shield their nefarious practices.

Just a Sociable Game

A stranger from the East, pockets bulging with money, meandered into the back room of Red Peters' place in Scarlet Gulch, where the boys were indulging in a quiet little poker festival.

Wishing to impress the small townsmen with a regular guy's idea of what poker playing was, he produced a large roll of bills and demanded a stack.

"It's just a sociable little game, stranger," remarked Yukon Jake, "but I reckon we kin let you in. How much you want?"

"About a thousand dollars' worth," replied the moneyed one airily.

Raking in the one grand and without missing a turn of the cards, the dealer ordered his assistant:

"Give him a white one."—American Legion Weekly.

To Veterans of All Wars

A memorial building, dedicated to the memory of veterans of all wars, is planned for the civic center in Milwaukee, Wis., by the county council of the American Legion. The building would house the trophies of the Civil and Spanish-American wars as well as the exhibits of the World war belonging to Milwaukee county. A meeting place for any organization of veterans is included in the plans.

You Pay for a DeLaval whether you buy one or not—

If your separator doesn't skim clean you are feeding your pigs and chickens enough butter-fat—which is always the equivalent of cash money—to pay for a new clean-skimming DeLaval.

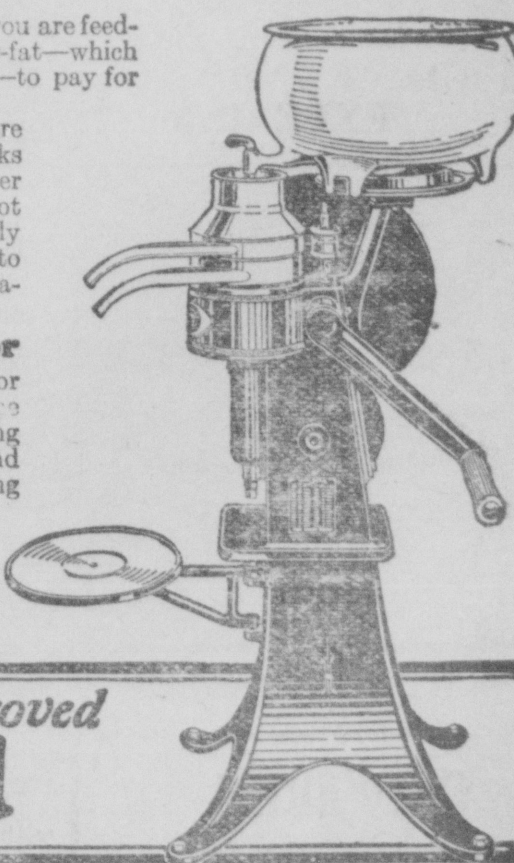

We recently heard of a farmer who more than doubled the size of his cream checks by replacing an old separator of another make with a new DeLaval. You may not get such an increase, but you will certainly get some when you put a new DeLaval to work—enough to pay for it in a comparatively short time.

Bring in your old separator

We will accept it as partial payment for a brand-new, up-to-date DeLaval separator with the wonderful self-centering bowl, that skims cleaner, runs easier and lasts longer. It pays for itself by saving the fat that other separators waste.

MORE DURABLE

LASTS LONGER

The Bak-O-Line Process is a method of spraying the entire pleasure car or truck with a prepared Lacquer enamel producing a velvet or satin finish in any color or combination of colors, far superior in beauty and permanence to the old style color varnish, and the satin finish actually improves with age. The finish is durable and lasting withstanding heat and cold, acids and alkalies, all of which are very destructive to paint and varnish.

It only requires five to eight days to finish a car. Drive in today, ask for a demonstration and have your car re-finished.

Bird of Marked Peculiarities.

The yellow-breasted chat is an eccentric bird both when it is singing and in flying. When these birds sing their musical effort seems to require a great deal of flitting of the tail and twisting of the head; and even when they are flying their tail jerks up and down, giving them a strange appearance. The song of this bird is scarcely worthy of the name, having been called a "series of grotesque syllables."

SHORT STORIES OF THE BUCKEYE STATE

John C. Calhoun and the Ohio
Indians.

Though John C. Calhoun seemed heartless as to the condition of the negroes held in slavery, he was very kindly disposed toward the Indians, as was brought out when he was approached on one occasion regarding federal aid for the Wyandot Indians in Ohio.

In 1824 James B. Finley, in charge of mission work among those Indians located in what is now Wyandot county, Ohio, went to Washington seeking federal aid for the work in which he was engaged. At that time the federal government placed a sum of money in the hands of the president and secretary of war to be used in work of this kind as seemed wise and expedient to them.

The original log mission house erected for religious, educational and occupational instruction of the Indians was not only inadequate, but had fallen into a state of dilapidation. About all Rev. Mr. Finley hoped for on his mission was an allowance for its repair. He called upon President Monroe, and found him inclined to make an allowance, but he explained that he left such matters largely to the secretary of war, who at that time happened to be Mr. Calhoun.

Rev. Mr. Finley reported his conference with the secretary entirely satisfactory. He found him much interested in the work in behalf of the Indians, and at once set apart $1,300 for the Wyandot mission. Rev. Mr. Finley was surprised to find that he might use the money to build a new mission house. The sum seems small, but in that day of low prices it was ample to build a stone structure 30 by 40 feet. Stone was quarried nearby and lime burned on the spot, and that same year the new mission house was built. In 1889, under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church, the building thus erected with money that Mr. Calhoun made available—at that time fallen into decay—was reconstructed.—J. H. Galbraith in Columbus Dispatch.

Sailors' Superstitions.

There is a strong feeling among sailors in general against clergymen at sea. Astonishing as it may sound, a ship that carries them soon gets a bad name. Mishaps that occur during a voyage are charged to the ministers, and although the superstition is not much discussed it certainly exists, and it is not to be put down by logic or common sense. The writer once wished the commander of a great ocean liner a pleasant voyage, "Pleasant voyage!" he retorted, savagely, "that's likely, isn't it, when there's three parsons shipped and one of them a bishop?"

Harnessing the Torrents.

In Switzerland almost every mountain torrent has its electric plant, the current often being carried for many miles for lighting and power purposes.

FUNCTION OF
MILK AS FOOD IS DISCUSSED.

Milk as a means of replenishment after the weaning period is unnatural both as a material and as a use by the being.

We know that of the five fundamental things or requirements for the continuity of normal, natural function in every living creature, all must be natural. Just note them:

Natural air,
Natural sleep,
Natural exercise,
Natural food.

Unnatural sleep will not answer any living thing's requirements for normal function, any more than will unnatural water. For a time it can survive on unnatural sleep, just as it can on unnatural food and air, but its function will inevitably change (which is disease) and shortly cease entirely.

No animal in nature ever continues to use milk after weaning, and the function or process of life is identical in all living beings, because not one can continue to exist without the same five fundamentals listed above. If it is unnatural for all animal creation, it must be unnatural for man, because, while, as has aptly been said, he may be lord of creation, he is not outside of it nor exempt from any of its laws.

An additional reason which is merely confirmatory and explanatory or an elaboration of those fundamental ones given above, is that oxidation of milk is an inevitable factor in its production and use as an unnatural substance. Mother's milk is never oxidized. That means it is never permitted to come into contact with the air, because it passes directly from the mother into the mouth of the offspring by a sealing arrangement that is most ingenious and admirable.

Another is that through oxidation it quickly becomes loaded with bacteria—another evidence that nature's laws are resolving it back into organic substances in complete accord with the cycle of life whereby it goes back to the mineral kingdom for the sustenance of vegetable life out of which it originally proceeded, through the elaboration of the animal function.

The first article in this symposium is from Mr. Henry C. Heissenbittel and follows:

THE TRUE FUNCTION OF MILK
AS FOOD.

By Henry C. Heissenbittel.

For the baby, milk is the most perfect food in the world. For the adult, it is the most abnormal. The first statement is freely admitted, but owing to the acceptance of erroneous teachings and suggestions, the latter is generally disputed.

To attempt to substantiate this statement of course means to run counter to the ever alert business man always ready for profit, and also against many medical men who accept the suggestion of milk as an ideal adult food from others as authoritative without any study or investigation on their part, but, for the time being let us put aside these factors and look at a few facts.

God is good, and with all that He created He also created the wherewithal for its sustenance. If we study and follow the precepts of nature closely, we can not go wrong. A food that is good at one period of life is not necessarily good at other periods when those conditions no longer exist.

For the baby, milk is the most perfect food in the world, and these are the facts. The only kind of mother who ever gives milk for her young is that kind which gives birth to her young from within her body. Hens do not give milk to their chicks because the chick is born from a shell outside of the mother's body.

Nature is wise. When young are born from within the body of the mother, it is necessary to keep the bone structure of the young very soft and pliable up to the time of birth, so that the mother will not be torn or injured and perhaps die as a result of giving birth. To accomplish this, nature takes great quantities of lime material from the mother's blood and thereby prevents it from entering into the bone structure of the unborn child. She takes this material and stores it up in the mother's breasts so that the mother may be enabled to make up to the child after birth the deficiency of lime material of which it has been deprived previous to birth.

The primal function of milk is to harden bone structure, which for a child just born, is the greatest need.

For an adult, this hardening function of milk is most abnormal, for at that period of life the desire is to remain young and prevent hardening of arteries, brittleness of bones, and stiffening of muscles. It's the natural tendency of every adult to remain young and spry.

DESIGN FOR NEW STATE BUILDING.

Columbus, Feb. 12 (United Press) Henry Hornbostel, Pittsburgh and New York architect Thursday laid before a joint meeting of the house and senate public buildings committee complete plans for a monumental state office building to be erected on the site of the present State house annex.
As presented the design proposed a towering structure from 23 to 32 stories high. It would connect with the state house by a "court of honor." The plans also call for completion of the state house in line with the original plans. This would include completion of the dome, which is branded as an "architectural monstrosity."

 * * AMUSEMENTS * * ***
"Bread" the Metro-Goldwyn version of Charles Norris' great novel, opened last night at the Met theater, and proved to the satisfaction of everyone that it makes as fine, if not finer, a picture than a book. It has all any photoplay could possibly contain for the kind of entertainment the whole family wants—drama, comedy, and some well placed melodrama combine to keep the audience on the edge of its respective seats.

"Bread" is a story which will touch responsive chords in every part of every audience. It deals with intimate, modern, personal sides of the every day experience of every life.
Business, Or the Home?
Women who face life in the modern business world and women who have found unhappiness in marriage will both find their own problems dramatized before them in startling fashion in "Bread." It is safe to say that no film has ever come so close to the life of the nation in daring portrayal of modern themes and experiences does this photoplay achievement.

Victor Schertzinger, who directed Jackie Coogan's "Long Live the King" and "A Boy in Flanders" has exploited to the full every dramatic phase of the famous novel.

The cast assembled for this film is one of the best of the year. The chief part is played by Mae Busch, who has been growing in popularity by leaps and bounds as a player of difficult dramatic roles. She has won a vast public by her work in "The Christian" "Name the Man," "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and "Broken Barriers."

Robert Frazer the Hero.
Robert Frazer, who has been called by Pola Negri, "the best lover on the screen," plays opposite Miss Busch. Mr. Frazer has lately appeared in many big films, among them "Women Who Give," "Men," "When a Man's a Man," "Jazzmania" and "Broken Barriers."

Pat O'Malley, whose Irish features have shared the screen with Lauretta Taylor, has an important role in "Bread." Wanda Hawley is in it, and stages a long expected come-back. Hobart Bosworth, Myrtle Stedman, Ward Crant, Raymond Lee and Eugenie Besserer are other favorite players in the cast.

"Bread" was published by E. P. Dutton and company last season, and immediately became the subject of a nation-wide discussion. The screen version was prepared by Lenore Coffey and Albert Lewin. The picture is presented by Louis B. Mayer.

HOME READING.
Have the movie, radio and the automobile killed the reading habit? Twenty years ago when the population of Circleville was 6,991, the annual circulation of books from the Circleville Public Library was 21,780. The latest population figures are 7,049, during 1924, 35,942 volumes were issued by the library for home reading.

Dreaded Sub-Tropical Spider.

The mygale is one of the best known of the large and heavy spiders. It is a native of tropical and sub-tropical America. It is said that it catches and kills small birds with its poisonous bite and then sucks the blood of its victims. The body of this spider is dead black and is covered with long reddish-brown hair. It possesses eight eyes, placed close together in the front of its head.

Tides of the Ocean.

The incoming and the outgoing of the tides is caused by the gravitational influence of the moon. The moon, so to speak, draws or lifts the water from the depths on the same principle that a pump lifts water. And as with a pump, the water rushes in to fill the space left; so the shallow water near shore rushes out to fill the extra space caused by rising of the water, on the principle that water seeks its own level.

Thought Turquoise Lucky

The various peoples who have been particularly fond of turquoise have attached most curious superstitions to them. Persians and Egyptians carried them in the desert to bring good luck for the finding of an oasis where they might be refreshed on the journey. The Persians fastened them to the tails of their horses, mules and camels.

Is This Reasonable?

You know the tremendous growth of institutions which loan their savings deposits on first mortgage security. This is because they can pay their depositors good interest with the utmost of safety.

This is such an institution. In addition to a very conservative loaning policy it pays compound interest on Certificates of Deposit.

It is reasonable for you to want the best in security and interest. If we offer it then isn't it reasonable for us to expect Your deposits?

TRY US FOR A WANT AD

Not to Be Bought.

Real friendship cannot long exist on mere sham. If we must retain our friends by forever acting a part, the end is not worth the effort. Hermits may be weak men who, having no sterling qualities, give up the lifelong bother of pretending to be what they are not. Hermits more probably are lazy folk who cannot endure the hard work of friendship, men too weak and lazy to stoke up the fires of friendship with the fuel of sacrifice and optimism. The boy or girl who is not willing to work for friendship, to shovel coal on life's wintry days in order to keep the flowers abloom, will have few friends.—Youth's Companion.

Lincoln Memorial. Chicago

The memorial to Lincoln designed by Saint Gaudens and erected in Chicago is one of the most remarkable character studies in stone ever designed. The rugged simplicity of the monument, combined with the faithful portraiture of the statue, seems to breathe the spirit of the Great Man.

The MODERN MONUMENT builders should give you the same results. I can refer you to many memorials erected by me in the past 27 years of my business here. Call at show room. No agents to annoy you.

TRIANGLE FARMS.

An artistic full page advertisement of "The Triangle Farms" is attracting much attention to the February issue of the "Garden Magazine and Home Builder."

The ad features Dr. Bales' new gladiolus "Rosemary" and the photograph of the bloom was taken by Frank Martin.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

The wives of the Lutheran Brotherhood members under the leadership of Frotherhood under the leadership of Mrs. Ed. Sensenbrenner entertained the men in the social room of the church which was beautifully decorated in red and white, with red hearts everywhere and red candles.

Two hundred and thirty-five men and women partook of the bountiful banquet of chicken pie and all the good things to please the hungry. Brick ice cream and homemade cake that was simply fine and then such a program.

Mrs. J. R. Noecker as toastmaster introduced the speakers in a very entertaining manner. Mrs. George Runkle and Mrs. H. H. Groce spoke on Valentine's day and Lincoln. Music, much music and more more music followed directed by Miss Alys Seitz. A quartet of black faces; Mrs. Sensenbrenner, Mrs. Seitz, Mrs. Noecker and Mrs. Palm sang "How Do You Do" using several personal verses of their own in which many of our men were prominently mentioned. Another big hit was the musical operetta with Mrs. George Runkle at the piano; Mrs. Julius Helwage as violinist, Mrs. John Ahn and Mrs. Jack Wardell as vocalists.

The big feature of the evening was the Kitchen Cabinet orchestra. Mrs. Carl Seitz introducing the various numbers. Mrs. J. W. Crist, as leader, Mrs. George Himrod as drum major and a dozen beautiful ladies in uniform who knew real music. Every one pronounced it one of the most delightful evenings.

Mrs. Wallace Crist and Mrs. John F. Mader will entertain to a luncheon party and a dinner party Wednesday evening, February 18, both followed by bridge.

Miss Helen Marion will entertain this evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Marion, on East High street.

The Black Diamond.
Although white diamonds come chiefly from the Transvaal, the black diamond is found in its greatest purity in Brazil and especially in the Province of Bahia. For its finest specimen so far discovered a price of $20,000 was paid—quite insignificant when compared with prices paid for white diamonds.

Sterling, died very suddenly in Grant hospital, Columbus, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, just as she was about to leave for her home after recovering from an operation. Death was due to cardiac embolism. Mrs. Dunn had been in the hospital for some time and was getting along fine, according to hospital attendants, when suddenly stricken.
